

Accepted Payment Methods

Last Modified on 12/13/2021 9:30 am MST

Credit and Debit Cards

We accept MasterCard, Visa, Discover and American Express for all orders.

If paying by debit card, your bank will show the charge as a pre-authorization and put a hold on the amount. Once Univair captures those funds, a second identical or higher charge may appear on your account. Once the funds are successfully transferred to Univair, your bank will then cancel the original authorization and release those funds back into your account, however they may take several business days to do so. Note that this is nothing Univair has any control over, it is how most banks handle debit card pre-authorization charges. To avoid this type of situation, it's recommended that you use a credit card, although some banks will treat credit card pre-authorizations the same way. If in doubt, contact your financial institution.

PayPal

PayPal is accepted for orders placed through our website only.

Checks and Money Orders

Checks and money orders are accepted for orders placed by phone, mail or fax only (some exceptions apply). These payment options are not available for orders placed through our website.

Make all checks payable to Univair Aircraft Corporation. We accept:

- Money orders
- Company checks
- Personal checks
- Certified checks
- Cashier's checks

When paying by check, please expect a delay in shipping. We will not ship your order until your check clears our bank.

Bank (Wire) Transfers

Bank transfers (aka wire transfers) can be used for large orders placed by phone. Our sales department will help facilitate payment by sending the current wire transfer details.

Open Accounts

Open accounts are payable Net 30, and are available only to businesses who have an established credit account with Univair.

